Ofcom proposes New Measures for tackling Scam Calls from Abroad with Spoofed UK Mobile Numbers

The regulator is consulting until 13th October 2025 on its updated calling line identification (CLI) guidance. Withholding UK mobile number as a presentation number at the international gateway and restoring it thereafter at the caller's home network might be a new tool for tackling scam calls, found Ofcom, the UK telecoms regulator. Cullen International (read more – subscription required)
